Premier Killed
When Pursuers
Slay His GuardsStamboulisky Fled
To No Avail, After Cabinet's Fall

(Associated Press.)

SOPHIA, June 15.—Former Premier Stamboulisky of Bulgaria has been killed while trying to escape. The end of the peasant leader's career followed a series of dramatic developments, beginning with the overthrow of his government in the early hours last Sunday and the formation of a coalition government including all the opposing parties with the exception of the communists.

As soon as Stamboulisky became aware of the successful coup d'etat he fled toward the mountains of Central Bulgaria, shaving off his moustache and disguising himself as an army chauffeur. He was deserted by most of his followers, only four being with him when he arrived at Pirdot, on his way to Elshintz. The pursuing troops of the new government overtook the party at Pirdot, but Stamboulisky escaped into the forest during the fighting in which his four followers were overcome.

He could not long elude the large force seeking him, however, and he was captured yesterday at Molavi, a village near Slavodtza.

DR. DUNCAN OFF ON
ON HIS VACATION

Dr. James A. Duncan and family leave Saturday for their vacation which will be spent at different points in Mississippi.

This vacation trip was scheduled to have been taken in about two weeks, but owing to the recent illness of Dr. Duncan, it was decided it would be well for him to have his vacation before again taking up his duties as pastor of the First Methodist Church.

When seen this morning Dr. Duncan gave out the following statement of appreciation to his many friends in the Twin Cities:

Dear Friends of Decatur and Albany:

May I take this means to thank you who have been so kind to me in my recent illness, as it is not possible for me to do it in person, as I should so much prefer to do.

I should like to mention everybody by name, but perhaps it is better simply to include all in these few words of deepest appreciation for your many, many kindnesses which I can never repay.

Sincerely yours,

JAS. A. DUNCAN.

Dr. Duncan stated that many examinations by physicians had failed to find any trace of any abnormal condition whatsoever. He said all proof tended to show that he was suffering from a poisoned condition of the system and that acute indigestion brought a kind of spasm upon him as he was speaking in the Athens College auditorium about two weeks ago.

He stated that in two hours after the attack he felt all right and almost normal.

To all appearance the minister was none the worse for his recent illness when seen at his residence.

The pastor said he expected to return with his family early in August.

Hanging Follows
Murder For Love

(By Associated Press.)

The trap was sprung in the Cook County jail at 7:08 a. m. The condemned man went to the gallows with stoic resignation after a night of sound sleep.

"Crying won't save me from the noose, so I might as well die smiling," he philosophed.

YEAR'S ACTIVITYSeveral Members Of Club Report On
Atlanta Meet

An interesting and well attended meeting of the Morgan Kiwanis club was held at the R. R. Y. M. C. A. last evening beginning at 7 o'clock.

The dinner, the members report, was greatly enjoyed and was served by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church of Decatur.

The semi-annual report of the president, E. F. Baird, was made and a number of recommendations were made for the continuation of the work of the club for the next six months.

Mr. Baird stated that it was his desire that the club go in for as large a program as possible for the balance of the year.

Every standing committee was asked to accomplish such tasks as properly come to their notice.

The activities of the club during the last six months were briefly reviewed by Mr. Baird, attention being called to the special meetings held and to the financial aid rendered to charity, to the state campaign for the children's aid society, and to the contribution made to the Albany-Decatur concert band.

Several members of the club who were delegates to the international convention of Kiwanis clubs at Atlanta, made reports on the proceedings of that convention, and the attention of the members present was directed to the program as laid down for Kiwanians everywhere.

The principal speakers on the Atlanta program were J. W. Clouton and Marvin R. Rankin.

These delegates showed that Kiwanians were pledged to especially establish a bond of sympathy and larger cooperation between the town and county people.

It was advised that inquiry and interest be shown in the activities and wants of the rural people and that when they are in the Twin Cities they be given opportunities to explain their plans and purposes for the future.

Local Kiwanians are showing considerable interest in the plans of their organizations in other cities where they are seeking to build up their communities.

The plans previously adopted by local Kiwanians in connection with the visit of Governor Brandon and A. G. Patterson were discussed and the same plans will be used for the meeting June 28 when Governor Brandon and Mr. Patterson will be the chief speakers at a meeting to be jointly arranged for the Albany-Decatur Chamber of Commerce and the Kiwanis Club.

RUSSIA TO ACCEPT
ENGLAND'S TERMS

(Associated Press.)

MOSCOW, June 15.—Lord Curzon's reply to the last Russian note, covering the points in controversy between the two nations is considered in official circles as eliminating the possibility of a break with England.

The meaning of the note, however, is not exactly clear to the Russians and they have asked Leonid Crassin, their representative in London, to explain certain parts of it before finally deciding upon its acceptance.

The passing of this crisis, together with the movement toward rapprochement with Japan, has had an extremely cheering effect here. Karl Radek, soviet publicity chief, said Russia's position in the far east was improving, as also are her relations with Japan.

America and Japan are struggling for China, while Japan is feverishly building up her navy expecting war with the United States, he said.

DECATUR OPENS HER
EFFORT FOR QUOTACampaign Is Begun To Raise $1,000 For River CauseLETTER TELLS OF SITUATIONBelief Prevails That Ford Will Get
Muscle Shoals

Formal opening of the campaign in Decatur for the completion of the quota from this section for the Tennessee Valley Improvement Association was announced this morning by Clyde Hendrix, vice president of the Association for Decatur.

A similar campaign was opened in Albany by John Patterson, vice president, Albany, for the association, some time ago and is still in progress.

It is understood that $1,500 is expected from Albany, and that something over $1,000 of this amount had been raised.

Mr. Hendrix is asking for a $1,000 quota from Decatur, according to the first letter sent out by him, which in part, follows:

Whether you regard this letter as important or not, I am confident you are one of those who hope to see Ford get Muscle Shoals.

Ford may get it—and he may not. Most all will agree that he will not if we give up. On the other hand, we are told that the situation is more favorable than it has ever been provided we now use the forces that are available for us in bringing the matter in the most impressive manner possible to the attention of the new congress soon to convene.

Those who have been active in this work for many years and who have given much of their time and study to the program that is about to be launched, are most optimistic about its success. So much so that the several towns along the way are responding to the call for further funds which are not only needed but must be paid in if the work is to be done.

One thousand dollars of the entire budget must be sent within the next week if it is to be used to advantage. Note copy of telegram just received from Washington which shows that the Government Printing Office has named June 20 as the last day for the funds to be paid in. If we should fail to carry out this part of the plan it would be disastrous to the cause, in my opinion, for the forces who are interested would become discouraged and would then take up other lines in which they are interested. We will never again have the North and Middle West and the far Western States willing to join in so heartily as now. So let's use them while we can and put it over in December.

We need $1,000. If every man I am writikng me $10 that will enable me to telegraph it this week. I feel that it will be well worth $10 to any and every man in Decatur. Please, therefore, use the enclosed envelope and enclose me a check for as much as $10 and as much as you feel you can afford to contribute at this time.

I thank you,

CLYDE HENDRIX.

PAYROLL BANDITS
MAKE RICH HAULS

(By Associated Press.)

POCAHONTAS, Ill., June 15.—Four bandits today kidnaped John Green, 60, mail messenger, and last were seen speeding toward St. Louis, Mo., 42 miles southwest of here. The bandits obtained two pouches of mail, one of which contained $4,000, which was to have been part of the payroll of the Pocahontas Coal company.

A posse has been organized in an effort to capture the bandits and rescue Mr. Green.

The mail messenger was taking the money from the depot to the post-office when the bandits, with drawn revolvers, ordered him into their automobile and sped away.

The money had been sent here from the federal reserve bank in St. Louis.

NEW YORK, June 15.—A cashier of the Pullman company—and his bodyguard, were robbed of a $22,000 payroll by six armed men today as they were entering the Sunnyside works at Long Island City.

Bailey Arranges
Kiwanis Meeting

Kiwanis club members of the Twin Cities were visited today by Jeff Bailey, secretary for the organization in Alabama and Florida. Mr. Bailey was here on his way south from Huntsville where he has been for the past few days making arrangements for the district convention which includes all Kiwanians in Alabama and Florida, to be held in that city August 21-22.

Already Mr. Bailey has secured as one of the conference speakers Ed Arras the International President of the Kiwanis clubs and the famous singer and entertainer of the Canadian Kiwanis clubs, Jules Prozil, has agreed to attend the Huntsville convention and take charge of the music.

Mr. Bailey stated that there were 48 Kiwanis clubs in Alabama and Florida, with prospects for over fifty before the Huntsville convention.

An anonymous letter led the discovery of the body. Jealousy is said to have caused the murder.

POWER COMPANY
TO BUILD NEW DAM

Hon. A. G. Patterson, chairman of the state public service commission, is here from Montgomery today and will probably remain until Saturday afternoon. In speaking of reports in morning papers relative to action of the public service commission in approving plans by the Alabama Power Company on the Tallapoosa river, Mr. Patterson confirmed the reports as being true and added that the commission had looked with favor on the project for some time.

The power company will construct a $10,000,000 dam near the Tallapoosa Falls cotton mill on the Tallapoosa river at Tallapoosa, beginning the stupendous task at once.

It is understood the cotton mill company from which the power company purchased its dam site will retain enough water for its own use for a period of years.

Mrs. Croker Wins
Verdict In Court

(Associated Press.)

DUBLIN, June 15.—A verdict in favor of Mrs. Croker was found by a jury in the contest over the will of the late Richard Croker this afternoon.

When the crowded courtroom realized that Mrs. Croker had won on every count the throng burst into tremendous cheering and handclapping. The court tried vainly for a considerable time to restore silence.

When quiet finally came Chief Justice Maloney said he regretted the demonstration.

The allegation that Bula was already the wife of Guy R. Marone at the time of her marriage to Mr. Croker was declared by the jury to be unsubstantiated.

The jury also found Mrs. Croker not guilty of influencing her husband against his children.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 15.—Danger of a serious flood along the Arkansas river in this city was diminished today with the issuance of a revised forecast reducing the maximum stages anticipated, by several feet as a result of levee breaks north of Little Rock and in Oklahoma which allowed the water to spread over the lowlands and reduced the force of the flood.

Today's forecast for Little Rock was 25 feet, three feet under previous estimates, and 27.5 feet for Pine Bluff.

Resumption of through train service on the Missouri-Pacific railway was announced today. The suspension was due to the washing out of piling under a railroad bridge at Bensal.

Sheffield Pastor

Rev. Herman L. Turner, pastor of the Columbia Avenue Presbyterian church, of Sheffield, will preach at the Westminster Presbyterian Church Sunday, morning and night, it was announced Friday by Dr. F. L. Goodwin, the pastor.

Dr. Goodwin stated that he felt he was furnishing an excellent opportunity for the many friends of Rev. Turner, in bringing that popular minister here for two sermons Sunday.

Rev. Turner was reared here, and was ordained to preach at the Willoughby Presbyterian church while he was a member of that body.

A large number will doubtless desire to hear the former Twin City man when he speaks Sunday at the Westminster Church.

Foreign Broom Corn
Now Received Here

Broom corn from far away Hungary is now being received on Moulton street at the broom factory where it is to be converted into brooms that sweep clean, as soon as the domestic supply of the raw material now on hand is used up.

The foreign product is so marked as to show that it came from Europe to New York City and thence by rail. It was explained by A. A. Hardage, one of the directors of the broom factory, that sufficient supply was being kept on hand at all times to meet the demands.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID
FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.PUTTING MORE MONEY INTO EDUCATION
AND INTO HEALTH AND GOOD ROADS.

Like honoring the flag, it is always perfectly proper and safe procedure to laud education. No one can go too far in the advocacy of education. The value of education is believed in by all, but very few have an real conception of its true value. Like the preaching of so many other great truths, what we hear about the value of education enters one ear and makes a quick exit through the other ear. Once in a while new light is thrown upon education and its value is seen quite clearly. Dr. P. P. Claxton, Provost of the state University made education appear very valuable and very attractive from every stand point in his two speeches he made here two weeks ago. Dr. Claxton is out in another public statement boosting education, which reads as follows:

After all, schools, roads, health, scientific research for the discovery of new truths and the principal application of both old and new truths to greater production, better distribution, and wiser consumption, however great the cost within reasonable limits, cannot justly be considered as burdens. They are great co-operative enterprises in which wise and free peoples invest for relief from the burdens of sickness, poverty, ignorance, and their consequent helplessness. The more they invest, with the proper care to its right use, the wiser they are and the greater will be their prosperity, wealth and happiness.

It will be no ficed the educator boasts not only education as a good investment, but he also commends taxation for good roads and good health.

Morgan county people should congratulate themselves that they have put as much money as they have into schools, into good roads and into health unit work. There will be no backward step in this county in the matter of money for better health, better roads and better schools and on the other hand much larger sums will be spent for these things as the years pass.

Announcement of the Federal Reserve Bank of the existence of a counterfeit $100 bill is causing little worry here for obvious reasons.

A thing well begun is half done. If Germany would start paying her debts it would not be found such an impossible task.

It is such a pity salt is raising in price, since we need so much of it to take with what we hear.

WINE GLESS
BEER MUG.

Brought down to every day thinking, stripped of all verbage and all legal matter, the present controversy over the 18th amendment has arisen because the "wets" are not satisfied with the measure in the Volstead act which says that any drink that contains more than one half of one percent alcohol is an intoxicating beverage and hence is an illegal beverage under the 18th amendment.

In other words the enemies of the Volstead act says it declares for too small a content of alcohol. They say people can drink much more than one and one half percent alcohol and still remain perfectly sober.

It is idle to discuss how little or how much alcohol it takes to bring "the drunk" as some people are much more easily made drunk than others.

Suffice it to say, the friends of temperance, the people who wish drunkenness abolished, advised the legislation who passed the Volstead act not to allow over one gallon and half of alcohol in every 100 gallons of alcoholic drinks.

The friends of temperance wished to get as far away from the danger of alcohol poisoning as practicable. They desire to take as few chances as possible when they sought to dethrone forever, John Barleycorn, that king of degeneracy.

The people who wish to get rid of all poison drinks those made with alcohol as the principal ingredient, think the side of freedom is their side. They think the individual who cannot get liquid poison are much freer, much happier and much more useful to humanity than people who are always being tempted by the wine glass and the beer mug.

ADVERTISING ALABAMA

The scores of civic bodies of the state set about a noble task when last week they determined upon a program for advertising this state which if carried out will carry the name and fame of Alabama to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries.

It is understood the details for acquainting the world with the advantages of the state are to be left to special committees, which are expected to enlist the people of the state in the advertising campaign and to secure the best advertising talent possible to carry the campaign into every nook and corner where people are found who are looking for opportunities to better their condition.

What the state Chambers of Commerce and other civic bodies propose to do is a big task—one which will challenge the best thought and the most untiring zeal of the ablest and best equipped men of the state.

One detail of the plan as adopted at Birmingham it is understood, is to secure one man in each county and its attractions are put before the rest of the country in the best possible light.

Naturally every county will want the best possible man to represent it. Morgan county wants a man as good as the best. The county wants a man who will be too busy for much repose, too faithful to think of his own interests, and too confident as the advantages of Morgan county, to doubt the success of his mission or to allow others to doubt the success of his work.

The state is looking for real accomplishments from the present effort to advertise Alabama, and much disappointment will be felt if the movement dies with its mission unfulfilled.

When the advertisers of Alabama present their bill, said to be fixed at close to $600,000, silence instead of applause will reign among the moneyless.

Greece Escapes Worst Effects of Refugee Invasion By Efficient
Work of American Red Cross

While reports reaching America from Constantinople of late have stressed the unsanitary conditions prevailing among the Greek refugees encamped in the former Turkish capital, where hundreds of the 25,000 who sought asylum there are said to be dying daily, conditions in Greece itself, where the refugees are numbered not by the tens of thousands but by hundreds of thousands, are in striking contrast. In Greece and its adjoining islands the American Red Cross has been and still is feeding some 500,000 of the refugees and throughout the winter such a high standard of sanitation has been maintained that in no camp did any disease reach epidemic proportions. The picture above shows a distribution of American clothing to the Red Cross refugee children.

The promptness with which the American Red Cross met the emergency arising when, as an incident of the Greco-Turkish war, a million helpless and homeless wanderers were suddenly dropped upon the port towns of Greece, forestalled any such conditions as have been reported from centers of refugee concentration farther east. There was little suffering from hunger and starvation because rations were promptly issued; there were comparatively few deaths from exposure, because ample and early shipments of clothing and blankets were rapidly distributed among those in need of them, and, most important of all, the sanitary regulations established and enforced by the American Red Cross, with the cooperation of the Greek Government, the vigorous clean-up campaigns, the protection of water supplies, the disinfection of the inoculation of the refugees, the emergency hospitalization provided, combined to check any disastrous spread of smallpox, typhus, cholera or other diseases common to such indiscriminate massings of humanity.

The American Red Cross met the emergency in Greece with emergency measures effectively carried out. It cannot and will not undertake to assume the burden of permanently caring for the hundreds of thousands of refugees with which Greece finds herself burdened.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT A Husband's Business

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

THERE now, he's going to lose his chance again—the man who's had such a struggle.

He's an honest, cheerful, hard-working, likable chap, too. Intelligent, and dead in earnest—never cares how long he has to work so long as he gets what he's trying to do—done.

Always studying and working and trying to get ahead—what in the world can be the matter with him? Is it drink? No, he never thinks of drinking. Is he discontented, envious, does he hate to take orders? No—what can it be?

The Mystery Solved

We've all wondered and wondered—we who met him in the Army Club when he was home from France wounded and trying to get well enough to go back to his regiment.

Distinguished service medal—a letter from Pershing—Oh, he was quite a hero and the girls all liked to dance with him—though he wasn't much of a dancer.

And then one of the girls fell in love with him and he fell in love with her and before he went back to France they were married.

And then he came home—when the war was over and ever since that he's been trying to get a start and we've all been trying to help him.

He's had several chances and he was always so grateful and so eager to "make good," and every time just as we all thought he was on his feet—out he was—looking for work.

And now I know exactly what's the matter.

Winifred Black

He introduced us and we sat on a bench and talked a while while he went across the park to see a man about a "job."

And his wife told me that he was leaving his present situation. "He's too easy-going," she said. "He lets people impose on him—and you know if you let people do that you never do get ahead."

"I just won't stand it, to have people impose on Billie the way they do!"

The mystery was solved. I wonder if it isn't at the bottom of a lot of just such mysteries. How many wives are there in the world who know enough to let their husband's business alone?

Now there's Jessica—Jessica's husband has had an awful fight of it. He had a sick mother and a younger brother to educate and Jessica wasn't very practical when he married her—but he weathered the storm somehow and got into a good business with a good partner and was making money.

Look About You

And he bought Jessica the prettiest little car you ever saw, a roadster as neat and smart as you please, and Jessica was delighted—until she met the wife of her husband's partner—in a seven-passenger. And from that minute Jessica began to poison her husband's mind against his partner.

And she nagged him and she jugged him, and she hinted and she suspected, until at last there was a quarrel and now Jessica's husband isn't a partner any more.

Poor Jessica! What a goose she was to scheme her out of a nice downy nest into the cold world just because her husband's partner spent more money for his wife's gratification than her husband spent on his wife.

Rage, jealousy, egotism, love of power, vanity—how many men are nagged out of good jobs by these things, and by women who think themselves "perfectly devoted to their husbands," at that.

RARE MASONIC BOOK GIVEN TO PRESIDENT BY CHEROKEE.

One of the oldest books on Masonry extant in America, was presented to President Harding last week. The volume, published in 1793 and relating to the history of Masonic orders for several thousand years, was given to the President by John M. Taylor, a Cherokee Indian living at Claremore, Okla.

The book was dedicated to "the Esteemed Masonic President, George Washington, Esquire, General and Commander in Chief of the Armies of the United States."

The Indian acquired the book by will of his father, a Master Mason, who inherited it from his grandfather, also a Mason, born in Orange county, Va.

DECAY OF LONDON BUILDINGS TO BE STUDIED BY EXPERTS

LONDON.—London is said to be slowly crumbling away or at least most of the historical buildings are decaying.

In an effort to ascertain the cause of this crumbling of apparently insoluble stonework, the government has appointed a committee of scientific experts to thoroughly probe the matter.

It is known that stone used in one part of the country will stand unaffected but if used in another it will decay. This is a mystery the experts have to probe, and it will take considerable time for it involves questions of chemistry, biology and physics.

Among the buildings needing immediate attention are the famous Carlton Club, Tower of London, Houses of Parliament, Holyrood Castle and Tintern Abbey.

POPULAR STAR IN "HEART OF WETONA."

The latest Norma Talmadge revival to be issued by the Selznick company, "The Heart of Wetona," will be at the Airdome Friday June 15.

The picture is adapted from the famous play of the same name which was written by George Scarborough and which David Belasco produced with tremendous success several years ago, starring Lenore Ulric. The director was Sidney A. Franklin.

The production was filmed on an Indian reservation in California consisting of 150 Indians and 20 log cabins. The reservation is 6,000 feet high.

TITLES ROUSE WRATH OF CANADIAN GRAIN GROWER

MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 13.—Charged with making a seditious speech at a meeting of grain growers last January, Fred McIntyre, a farmer of the Royal George School district, south of Caron, Sask., was recently committed for trial here. He was released on bail.

McIntyre is alleged to have made the seditious remarks during a discussion on titles, and is charged with having said:

"I count myself as good a man as King George. I would not be scared to challenge him to a foot race, to wrestle, or to fight, although he is fed up in a box stall on choice food. If I had my way I would take a club and stand at the border and knock the brains out of everyone that came into the country with a title. I would make no mistake about it as I know where to hit them."

Ill Luck in Cracked China.

Near the close of the new year in Japan, the housewives get busy and inspect carefully breakfast, dinner and tea sets. Each piece of china or earthenware which shows a crack is singled out and a new piece is bought in its place. Cracked china brings ill luck, according to the Japanese belief.

Babies Strike For Twenty Hour Day Better Food and No Kissing Aided By American Child Health Association

We are the Kings of Babyville, the Champion Big Eaters of Bottle-land, the Supreme Snoozers of the Country of Cribbs.

This is our royal edict to the babies of the nation. Let's all be husky! That's what got us where we are. In order to be strong and healthy, let's organize! Let's form the Babies' Union of the United States.

We are the hope of the future, the force of the present. All we have to do is to make up our minds what we want. We've got people where we want them. We could keep the nation awake, if we should all unite and cry at once!

Let's hope we won't have to strike for if we do it will go hard with grown-ups. We'll strike for something worth while. We'll strike for longer hours of sleep—say 20 hours a day. No compromise. Unconditional surrender! We won't stay up late to entertain company—let them stay at home, for all we care! If we strike, we'll strike for better

To Each Man His Part.

To shape the whole future is not our problem; but only to shape faithfully a small part of it, according to rules already known. It is perhaps possible for each of us, who will with due earnestness inquire, to ascertain clearly what he, for his own part, ought to do; this let him, with true heart, do, and continue doing.—Thomas Carlyle.

Business With Pleasure.

"There's nothing like combining business with pleasure," said the tailor's daughter as she lovingly wrecked the crease in her lover's trousers.—Penn State Froth.

Heat English Walnuts.

Buy English walnuts by the pound, look them over carefully and, before using any of the meats, heat through in the oven, watching them closely to prevent burning. Their flavor is much improved and they keep fresh for a long time if put into an air-tight can.

A Gift of the Gosh.

Largest Extinct Volcano.

The world's largest extinct volcano, the crater of which is said to be large enough to hold the city of Philadelphia, is on the island of Maui, in Hawaiian National park.

Ingenuous Newspaper Idea.

A Spanish newspaper, printed some years ago, was printed with phosphorus in the ink so that it could be read in the dark.

From a Story—"Mary was the sweet contour of the homeland hills to the returning traveler. Elton bathed in her gentle presence, and watched the pensive sweet oval of her gracious, washable face."—Boston Transcript.

food. How can they expect us to be leaders of the race if they don't give us what we ought to have to eat? Mothers' milk is best, as all babies know, and when we can't get that, we insist upon pure cow's milk, according to the doctor's modification, in clean boiled bottles. But we aren't like those old-fashioned babies, who lived on nothing but milk. As we get really grown-up, say nine months old, we need orange juice, and beef broth, and vegetables, and things. Ask the doctor.

We'd like to strike against kissing, too. We can't be giants on germs. If folks must kiss us—and personally we don't see the necessity—we prefer to be kissed on the back of our necks, or behind our left ears.

That organization they call the American Child Health Association seems to us babies to have the right idea. Herbert Hoover—babies all over the world know him—is the president. And he says a lot when he talks about the Babies Bill of Rights. Here it is:

"There should be no child in America who is not born under proper conditions; Does not live in hygienic surroundings; Ever suffers from malnutrition; Does not have prompt and efficient medical inspection and attention; Does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and health."

The Babies' Union will subscribe to every word of that. This edict is just to let Mr. Hoover know that the babies are backing him. If any grown-up feels the same way and wants to join the American Child Health Association, he can get in touch with it through the treasurer, Corcoran Thom, at the National Headquarters, 532 Seventeenth Street, Washington, D. C.

Come on, babies! Join hands! Let's all crawl together toward our goal—perfect health!

Odd Pronunciation.

Says an exchange: "Ngon, a West African fruit, may be imported into this country. It is pronounced palatable."

Wonderful Ingenuity.

How wonderful is the manufacture of gold and silver lace may be judged from the fact that it makes necessary the beating of two grains of metal to cover 3,000 square inches. Two miles or more of the gold wire can be drawn from a single ounce.

Voices Louder in a Tunnel.

Voices appear louder in a tunnel because the sounds are reflected immediately. Just as a gas reflector increases the intensity of light, so a sound reflector will increase the apparent strength of the voice.

Tribute to Civil Engineer.

From the standpoint of the artist, the civil engineer type represents the highest type of masculine perfection. He has the imagination to conceive and the practicality and intellect to execute his conceptions.—Emily Nichols Hatch.

Explaining Ancient Lamps.

The wicks in the lamps of the Vesal virgins are now thought to have been made of asbestos, the mineral from which 1,000 asbestos theater curtains are manufactured every year in England and the United States.

Speaking of Fruit.

Sometimes a fellow makes a date with a peach he believes will turn out to be the apple of his eye, but eventually she proves a lemon that no sensible chap could care a fig for.—Farm Life.

The Platonic Philosophy.

Of all the ancient systems the Platonic was the most popular. Plato, born in 400 B. C., died in 347. He was distinguished by the comprehensiveness of his teachings. He was a disciple of Socrates.

Real Success in Life.
After all, that is the most success can yield—a landmark of achievement accomplished for the good of others. All the rest is mere food, washing and lodging. And so, unless we get joy and happiness into our lives in doing our daily routine business, any so-called success is meaningless and shadowy—mere Dead sea fruit—a mirage of the desert. Viscount Leverhulme.

Reading Poetry Aloud.

They shall read with dignity, slowly, with realization of the beauty of each word, and of how in verse each word has its value, not only of sense, but of sound and association; they shall pause at the end of the lines and mark the metre subtly and not grossly; and all this may be taught to the wise.—James Elroy Flecker.

Engagement Rings.

At one time the engagement ring consisted of three hoops looped together into what was known as a puzzle ring. On the wedding day one of these rings was given to the bridegroom, another to an intimate friend, and the bride kept the remaining hoop.

Happy Prospect for Hubby!

That one of the latest theories put forward by doctors is that new clothes are better than medicine to restore health. One can imagine how carefully a man would look after his wife's health, with the prospect of prescriptions of new jumpers, fur coats and strings of pearls in front of him every time she is suffering from a tiny ailment.—Exchange.

SWEDEN'S PAPER MONEY
MAY BE WORTH MORE

STOCKHOLM.—When the dollar began to rise in London recently the Swedish State Bank continued to sell dollars in order to keep the Swedish crown on par with the American currency, but the dollar went up to 3.75 from 3.74. The state bank at the beginning of the year had a portfolio of foreign currency amounting to 160 million crowns but this has been reduced to 63 million.

According to experts the bank would be in position, if parliament rejects the proposal for a further postponement of a return to a gold footing, of seeing its paper notes higher in value than the corresponding number of crowns in gold.

RECOVERING EYESIGHT.

MODEST POLISH FAMILY
INHERITS GREAT WEALTH

WARSAW, June 14.—All the lucky Poles with rich relatives in the United States seem to live in Chenstohova. During recent years several citizens of this town have inherited large sums of money from American Poles; but it appears that the biggest fortune of all has just fallen to the members of a family of the name of Holich, in moderate circumstances, who are reported to have inherited $30,000,000 from Frank Holich of Buffalo, N. Y.

Enjoyment in Employment.
The crowning fortune of a man is to be born to some pursuit which finds him employment and happiness, whether it be to make baskets, or broadswords, or canals, or statues, or songs.—Emerson.

Fox Caught in Trap.
Caught in a trap in Lincolnshire, England, a fox dragged the trap for two miles and sheltered for the night in a disused dog's kennel on a farm. It was discovered in the morning, and showed no fear, but only gratitude when the trap was taken off and the wounded foot dressed. The animal had almost to be driven away.

To Ascend in the World.

CAME HOME TO DIE.
"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to Mayr's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at once.

Either an individual is worth something in life or is worth nothing. To that valueless individuals can combine to make an invaluable society is a good deal like saying that one can make a million by adding eighths.—Shallier Matthews.

His Name Among Chums.
William is the name of a small newcomer in our block. A short time after Everett met him he was calling him Bill. On his mother asking him why he didn't call the child by his right name, Everett replied: "Oh, 'cause William is his man's name, but Bill is his boy's name."—Exchange.

IN EARLY CALIFORNIA DAYS

Justice Administered in Somewhat Crude Fashion After the Conquest of Mexico.

A Justice of the Supreme court, mounted on horseback and armed with a Winchester, was O. Henry's definition of a rurnale, and, butting the horse and the Winchester, the same would apply to an alcalde of the old California days. This refers particularly to the powers of the American alcaldes who came in after the conquest of Mexico. Here is one of the many amusing incidents that happened, John L. Considine writes in Adventure Magazine:

Lawyer Leander Quint of Sonora, for whom Alcalde R. C. Barry entertained a violent dislike, had lost the first three fingers of his right hand. In argument he would gesture violently with this hand, extending the remaining thumb and little finger in a manner that annoyed Barry excessively. After a trial in which Barry had as usual ruled against him, Quint exclaimed:

"Judge, I never did stand any chance in your court!"

"No, sir," replied Barry, "and you never shall. When a man comes into court and wriggles his fingers and rolls up his eyes as you do, he can't have any show here. In Texas, we have man-traps, sir, that cost thieves their fingers. It looks — suspicious, sir, it looks — suspicious; but I hope it's all right."

Sport in Ancient Egypt.

Egyptians were the oldest admirers of sport. From the pictures on temple walls and tombs one learns how they spent their days in work, religious rites or pleasure. Girls played ball, sitting on the backs of their girl friends. They also danced to the rhythm of songs, which were accompanied by hand clapping. Boys ran races, balanced on beams or stood on their heads. They tried their skill in throwing pointed sticks at a wooden stump and had themselves blindfolded, beaten by their comrades, and then guessed who was beating them.

Fencing was done with a light wooden saber; a shieldlike piece of wood was fastened to the lower arm during the combat. Pictures of wrestling matches along the tomb walls of Beni Hassan would illustrate a modern textbook of wrestling.

Energy of a Watch.

About 105 different pieces enter into its construction, and upwards of 2,000 separate operations are comprised in its manufacture. The roller jewel of a watch makes every day 132,000 impacts against the fork.

The seeds of knowledge are extremely hardy, and may be planted every month in the year, and if well cultivated will produce profitable crops.

Origin of Goldfish.

Goldfish are the result of the elimination of the somber colors in a variety of carp by selective breeding begun by the Chinese and Japanese in the sixteenth century.

LEVIATHAN MADE WONDER SHIP BY AMERICAN BRAINS

The Leviathan will carry 4674 persons. It would require 93 Pullman cars carrying an average of 50 persons each to haul such a number.

LARGEST vessel afloat, equipped and appointed more luxuriously than any other craft in the world, the mighty steamship Leviathan, flying the house flag of the United States Lines, will sail from New York on July 4 for her first trip to Southampton. This initial trip of the Leviathan as a passenger vessel under the Stars and Stripes is a matter of national interest of two fold importance.

When vessels in New York harbor strike a "God Speed" through their sirens and thousands on shore cheer the Leviathan on her departure on Independence Day, the salute will not only be for the liner herself but for the hundreds of Americans whose brains and craftsmanship have made her rebuilding possible. Their efforts and results have proved incomparable in the history of ship construction as is evidenced by the new Leviathan, which as flag ship of the United States Lines fleet adds material prestige to the American merchant marine.

As the Pyramids in their solid grandeur overshadow any other solid structure in the world, so does the Leviathan excel all other craft, in size, equipment, appointment and service.

Comparisons are often deemed odious, but it is by comparison only that the features of the gigantic liner can be set forth.

Can Carry 4,674 Persons

In this connection it has been noted that the Leviathan has a total passenger capacity of 3,398 persons in her three cabins, greater than the housing accommodations of the world's largest hotel, the Pennsylvania in New York. The total number of souls which the Leviathan can carry however, including her crew of 1276, is 4,674. The Steward's department of the Leviathan will be called upon to feed, when the vessel has her capacity of passengers aboard, that number of individuals at least three times a day, something no hotel in the world can do.

To properly set the tables for the breakfasts, lunches and dinners on the Leviathan, 221,000 pieces of china will be used; 48,034 pieces of glassware and 71,798 pieces of silverware. In addition to innumerable table cloths and serviettes, sufficient to stock a big dealer in these wares for months.

In reconditioning the Leviathan, in making her American in every respect in equipment and appointment, 2,900 workers, each skilled in his particular craft, labored mightily, not for the dollars his efforts brought in, but for the satisfaction gained in adding to the glory of American shipping on the high seas. More than 1,000 manufacturers assembled and furnished to the liner mechanical equipment, fittings, decorative material and furniture, in many cases at a financial loss.

The quality of all this material is of the highest obtainable, the workmanship the best possible, for in the work was put the desire to see the Leviathan surpass anything which ever sailed the Seven Seas. That the superhuman efforts, the money still, which everyone from the contractors in charge of the work to the lowliest mechanic brought to the task have been successful is shown by the Leviathan herself.

The Wonder Ship, with a gross tonnage of 72,958.65, is 2,406 gross tons larger than the next biggest vessel. As she lay in her berth at the yard of her reconditioners at Newport News, Va., the Leviathan's colossal size dwarfed the graceful battleship West Virginia, the latest in warcraft construction.

Homeliness a Feature

Everything about the Leviathan is in keeping with her size, her status as the largest craft in the world, the type of the American merchant marine. The decorative and furnishing scheme of the Leviathan, planned and executed by masters of the interior decorating arts, is the last word in beauty and "homeliness." Every state in the Union contributed material of some description to make the huge liner a thoroughly American craft—an American institution, in fact—and this is recognized by 48 sumptuous stained glass windows in the big first cabin library, which represent the various states. It is in this library that will be hung a portrait in oils of President Harding, which Howard Chandler Christy is now working.

Visitors to the Leviathan, when she reaches New York after being drydocked and painted at Boston, will find the vessel bristling with points of interest. Not the least of these is the third "smoke stack" of the liner, which is not a smoke stack at all. This funnel, it has now been disclosed for the first time, not only provides the forced draught for the ship's all burning engines, but contains two gigantic water tanks. These tanks, each of ten thousand tons capacity, hold the water for the staterooms, baths and drinking water devices.

The piping through which this water flows in supplying the needs of the passengers on the ship, the electric wiring for lighting and telephone communication purposes would be sufficient, so many hundreds of miles have been used, for a large township on shore. The 150 handsome clocks on board the Leviathan will be hung in enough to equip every public structure in such a town.

The Leviathan, through wireless apparatus constructed especially will at all times be in direct communication with New York. The liner will be equipped with both radio telegraph and telephone devices. While the radio telegraph will be used for business, the radio phone will be mainly utilized for the purpose of entertainment. Each stateroom in the first cabin will be so equipped that the passengers will not only hear messages and concerts broadcasted from shore, but will be enabled, through a huge central ship's switchboard, to talk to shore. This is the first apparatus of this kind to ever be utilized on ship board.

A search light, more powerful than any ever used on a passenger vessel is part of the Leviathan's electric equipment. This searchlight is 42 inches in diameter, and, located on the foremast, is electrically controlled from the bridge.

It took the early pioneers in their prairie schooners 145 days to journey 2900 miles, the distance between New York and Southampton which the Leviathan will cover in 5 days.

S.S. LEVIATHAN

The generating plant of the Leviathan, which furnishes electricity to the searchlight and all other lights and electric equipment, has a 1,700 K.W. capacity. The power of this plant used between seven and eleven at night, would supply an ordinary home for seven years. There are 15,000 lamps used in lighting the vessel, controlled from 5,000 switches.

Eleven elevators on the liner, all operated by electricity, reduce the necessity of walking when going from one deck to another to a minimum.

In the making of the Leviathan, for the liner is practically a new vessel now that her reconditioning has been completed, a task which even foreign experts deemed impossible, that pioneer American spirit, which sent the settlers westward with their wagons and oxen—which carried the clipper ship to the leading position in the maritime world, has shown itself at the best, has again conquered the seemingly unconquerable.

Equisetum.

When horse-tails are no longer than lead-pencils, they have the appearance of fairy evergreens. They stand clumped together just like a grove of fir, and possess that same rich green. The different circles that surround the jointed stem are most perfectly graduated up and down the stem, with the middle whorl the most widespread of them all. The little brown beauty spot that ornaments the stem above each circle seems to prove that Nature does these things for her own pleasure.

Hartselle News

Work was begun Monday morning on the new First National Bank building which is to be erected on the lot acquired by the bank three years ago situated at the intersection of Main street and the Bee Line Highway.

The lot was brought during the prosperous times of 1918-19, and was considered the highest piece of property in the town. It is admirably situated for a banking institution, as it is in the heart of the business district of the town, and will have a corner opening.

The building will be of brick, modern in every respect, great care being exercised in its erection to provide every convenience. Safety deposit boxes will be installed and the arrangement throughout will be built with the view of obtaining plenty of light. Excavation for the vault is being made and this will start from the rock bottom.

When completed the building will be a distinct addition to the business interests of the town, and already there is a report that the other space on the large lot will be built in.

The musical comedy "Mrs. and Mr. Polytikk," which was given at the city school auditorium Tuesday evening, was one of the most elaborate plays ever presented here.

The play was presented by local talent and was under the auspices of the Hartselle Culture Club and Thursday Afternoon Club. The proceeds will be used in beautifying the city cemetery.

City Streets.

The work of improving the city streets and the building of more than 6,000 yards of cement sidewalks in different sections of the city, was begun Monday morning by the successful bidders, Jackson and Burleson.

The program will include the entire resurfacing of all the downtown

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

The improvements call for the expenditure of several thousand dollars and it is possible when those are completed other projects will be carried out.

Rev. R. W. Anderson, pastor of the First Methodist Church, left Sunday for Tuscaloosa where he will spend some time recuperating at that and other points. Farmers are making good use of the first real farming weather of the present season and much progress is being made the present week in the crops. Weather conditions are ideal for cultivation, it is said, and the young plants are growing rapidly.

Haying, which at this time of the season ordinarily is at its height, is far behind normal, the first cuttings being made the present week.

Ollie Wilhite, an attache of the local postoffice is confined to his room with tonsillitis.

Measles has been epidemic here for the past several weeks and scarcely any home has escaped having one or more sick ones. The disease is of a mild type, the patient recovering in a few days.

After an absence of several weeks at Akron, O., Louise Elison is home again.

Walter Rountree, who has been attending Vanderbilt University, taking a medical course, is home for the vacation period. He is working in the Louisville and Nashville shops.

For the first time in years Hartselle is without a ball team. The players are scattered and making good elsewhere.

An Inventor at Seventeen.

One Saturday morning, more than 60 years ago, writes Floyd L. Darrow in St. Nicholas Magazine, a man and a boy might have been observed standing over a piece of pipe in a machine-shop in Schenectady, N. Y. The man was giving instructions to his fourteen-year-old son, George Westinghouse, Jr., as to how he wished this pipe to be cut into pieces of a certain length. George had wanted to go on a hike with some other boys, but his father, a somewhat stern man, was assigning a task which, he assured the lad, would require all his spare time for several days to come. While his father had been talking, the boy had been thinking out a scheme to escape this drudgery. In a few hours he had rigged up a combination of tools which, when attached to a power machine, automatically fed the pipe and cut it into the proper lengths.

In this youthful incident we have the first glimpse of the wonderful inventive genius of one of the most extraordinary men that America has ever produced—George Westinghouse.

History of Vaccination.

Vaccination, generally regarded as a modern practice, dates back more than 2,000 years, according to Dr. W. G. McCoy, director of the Hygienic Laboratory of the United States Public Health service. "When the ancients noticed that recovery from the first attack gave immunity from others," says Doctor McCoy, "they began inoculating their fellows; first by exposing well persons to others ill with the disease and later by inoculation."

Jenner, who is generally conceded to have been the father of vaccination for smallpox with cowpox, only "put vaccination on a rock where it would be immovable," explains Doctor McCoy. Records show that years before Jenner's time men had been vaccinated with cowpox and then with smallpox to demonstrate their immunity.

Rachel's Tomb Jewish Shrine.

Rachel's tomb, about a mile from Bethlehem, is a sacred shrine of the Jews. It is the only spot of Old Testament interest to which the Jews have exclusive rights, and the chief rabbi of Jerusalem has the key to it. They assemble there from time to time for prayer. They do the same at Hebron, where the patriarchs are buried, but in general they do not have ready access to the graves of their forefathers. The Moslems refuse this privilege to them.
